

Does σ predict the error?

Pixels binned by predicted σ ; each point is one decile. Coverage answers whether the bars are the right size on average; the spread along x answers whether σ can rank one pixel against another. A field that is calibrated but flat passes the first test and fails the second.